

The smart speaker that listens...unless you don't want it to

Introducing, DiscovR with an intuitive design that blends tactile touch controls, with cutting-edge voice technology; smart speakers have never been so smart

London, August 31st 2018: DiscovR, the portable Alexa-enabled smart speaker from the digital radio experts, Pure. Available to order online from Amazon.co.uk this October, priced at £229.99, and you can choose from two stylish colours, Silver and Graphite.

A beautifully compact and portable Alexa-enabled smart speaker designed to be in tune with you. It understands you love to talk but doesn't forget you also love to touch. You want to be heard, but also love your privacy. Most of all you want your music, your way, in any room with an immersive 360° sound to match.

DiscovR a smarter experience

Just ask Alexa and she'll answer questions, play music, read the news, set timers and alarms, check sports scores, control lights around your home, and much more.

When speaking a command out loud isn't always appropriate, DiscovR comes with intuitive quick corners. You can pre-set any voice command, station or playlist to be accessed instantly without the need to ask. There's a button to mute the microphone, touch controls for volume and track skipping and source selection is shown by its corresponding colour.

Hear a tune you love? With Music Discovery, at the touch of a button you can identify and add any song you hear on the radio to your Spotify music service playlist for listening back later.

DiscovR private time

Thanks to its innovative custom engineering, DiscovR offers a unique, compressing design that when closed, physically disconnects the microphones to offer visible and total privacy from Alexa.

DiscovR freedom

These new smart speakers feature integrated batteries offering a fully connected, around the home experience. A fully charged DiscovR can power your music for up to 15 hours and thanks to its clever expandable acoustic chamber, it's even more compact for effortless portability.

DiscovR multi-room audio

Give your music the freedom it deserves, simply connect to either Amazon or Apple AirPlay-2 compatible speakers for a versatile multi-room experience. Alternatively, pair up two DiscovR speakers for an unmatched stereo pair setup with Apple Air-Play 2.
